Office of Distance and Electronic Learning
Electronic Course Design Award Recipients - Fall 2011 Competition Results

The Office of Distance Learning issued a request for electronic course design proposals in August. A four-person selection committee met, ranked, and reviewed all proposals and awarded funds for the following nine (9) courses. These courses will be delivered in the spring, summer, or fall 2012 semesters.

Priority 1 – Undergraduate Electronic Course Design Awards

Decisions were based on priorities listed in the request for proposals cover letter and the potential enrollments in some of the courses proposed. The overall quality of proposals was high, but only nine were selected due to the limited budget to fund electronic course designs. Another opportunity will be provided very soon for faculty to begin applying for the spring competition.
